You Don't Have to Do This Alone

Being the Chaplain for the West Central Region is an honor and a joy. I so appreciate your allowing me to be supportive of you. I know that Ministry can be a mixed bag; rewarding, challenging and sometimes lonely. As Regional Chaplain, I am offering my services to you as a partner in ministry. I am here if you would like to pray, vent, or if you would like a companion on your journey. My number is listed at the end of this article.

I have been making quarterly calls to each of you (I hope you are getting your messages) to offer support and remind you of upcoming events in the region. Additionally, UWM has approached me to work with our region to be a Prayer Chaplain, making monthly calls and leaving prayers on your voice mail. Please let me know of significant events in your life for which you would like support.

I love chaplaincy and have been involved in some form of it since 1997. I also have one unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (400 hours) as well as Leilani Burt's chaplain training and have served as prayer chaplain for my home church as well as in seminary. I currently co-facilitate bereavement groups for Hospice of Lake County in addition to guest-speaking and teaching.

If you do not want to receive my calls as Regional Chaplain or monthly calls in my role as UWM chaplain please let me know.

My number is: 707-279-1580, my email is unitymargaretf@gmail.com.

Many blessings and my love to you all.

Rev. Margaret Flick

Sandberg
Sunday, November 15, 12:15pm -2:15pm

As a child growing up watching Disney movies, I could easily identify who was the good guy and who was the villain. In the “real world”, it is not always as easy to identify people and circumstances that seem particularly villainous ahead of time. Through the 5 Basic Unity Principles I learned growing up, I realized: There is no such thing as villains. Villains can simply be looked at through another set of eyes, eye that are kind and open to seeing the Christ that we all are. Join Lily for a workshop where we delve into the process of seeing the villains.
